- 5) Cars are not allowed inside the traditional Capital villages (Horas) of Cyclades. Your taxi will leave you in the entrance of the village and you will enjoy strolling along their lovely stone paved narrow alleys to discover their beauties.

INFORMATION about the Destinations

ATHENS RIVIERA & CAPE SOUNIO

Athens coasts have many great beaches with crystalline waters and lovely bays for anchoring. Fleves (uninhabited island, 5 minutes from Vouliagmeni suburb) has lovely coves with exotic turquoise waters and Katramonissi islet (15 minutes from Alimos marina) has a nice beach ideal for swimming. A popular bay for swimming is Astir in Vouliagmeni with a couple of fantastic beaches with exotic waters. One of the most popular anchorages is Cape Sounio bay, not only for its beautiful beach but also due to the magnificent Ancient Greek Temple of Poseidon climbed on the hill. The area has a luxury hotel and a couple of tavernas.

SERIFOS

Serifos is a quiet island with more than 50 fantastic beaches, most of them virgin and all of them with amazing exotic waters. However, it is also famous for its spectacular traditional Hora (capital village) climbed on the hill. It also has some very pure Cycladian villages and a lovely port (Livadi), which is the most cosmopolitan site of the island, with a large sandy beach and various restaurants, cafes and shops. SERIFOS is IDEAL for those wishing to explore a quiet Cycladian island with many exceptionally beautiful isolated beaches and wonderful traditional architecture.

MUST DO in SERIFOS

- Visit the spectacular traditional Hora (capital village) during sunset. It is climbed on a hill above the main port (Livadi) offering stunning panoramic views of the Aegean. There you will also find a few tavernas and a couple of cafes.
- Swim in the fantastic virgin beaches of the island, with exotic waters
- Have a drink or a meal on the beach, in one of the various restaurants and cafes of the picturesque Livadi (port)

POLYEGOS

Polyegos is an uninhabited virgin island near Milos and Kimolos and has the most intense turquoise waters of Aegean, which is the main reason to visit it. You will be stunned with its exceptionally beautiful isolated beaches and its impressive rocky formations, some of which seem to emerge from the sea.

KIMOLOS

Kimolos is one of the most primitive Aegean islands. It has a lovely traditional Hora (capital village) with some taverna and quiet café-bars, a couple of cute tiny fishing villages, a very small port located on a sandy beach and other beautiful beaches, among which the exotic Prassa with white sand, which is one of the best in Cyclades. However, one of the main attractions of Kimolos is the impressive rocky formations of its coastline. Its proximity to Milos and Polyegos, makes it an interesting stop over. KIMOLOS is IDEAL for those wishing to explore a primitive Cycladian island with lovely beaches and impressive coastline.

MUST DO in KIMOLOS

- Cruise along its coastline to admire the impressive rocky formations and swim in the exotic Prassa beach
- Visit the traditional Hora (capital village) on the hill, if you want to see a quiet Cycladian village, with very few tavernas and café-bars.

MILOS

Milos is one of the most beautiful islands in the Mediterranean, which retains its quiet traditional, non touristic, character and is definitely a must see, due to its:

- Stunning volcanic coastline, with impressive natural rocky sculptures on its land and in the sea, fantastic sea caves and exceptionally beautiful beaches. Among them, the famous Klefitko combines all the above and is one of the most spectacular spots in the world.
- Its great history, since it is the home land of the world famous ancient Greek sculpture "Aphrodite of Milos" one of the most popular exhibits of Louvre Museum in Paris.
- Its lovely colorful fishing villages (Fyropotamos, Mandrakia etc)

MILOS is IDEAL for those wishing to explore a non touristic island with spectacular landscape, superb beaches and great history

MUST DO in MILOS

- Visit the famous Klefitko (accessed only by boat) with the imposing white rock formation, its sea caves and its tiny beaches with crystal clear waters
- Swim in Sarakiniko, the spectacular moon-like beach, with white rocks and crystal clear waters and in Papafragas, the imposing open cave-beach
- Cruise along its impressive volcanic coastline and explore its numerous amazing beaches
- Visit the picturesque traditional Hora (capital village) with nice tavernas and café-bars

SANTORINI

Words cannot describe the magic of Santorini. It is one of the most incredible places on earth, definitely a “must see” in a lifetime due to its:

- Stunning beauty with breathtaking Caldera views and unique traditional architecture combined with the impressive volcanic landscape
- Amazing atmosphere and its excellent restaurants, bars, beach bars, clubs and shops
- Great history and important archaeological sites

SANTORINI IS IDEAL for those wishing to visit one of the most beautiful places on earth combining a cosmopolitan atmosphere, with many entertainment and shopping options, history and nice beaches. However, it is the least yachting friendly Cycladian island (along with its neighboring Anafi), due to its volcanic landscape very deep sea bottom and lack of protected bays.

MUST DO IN SANTORINI

- Stroll along the wonderful stone paved alleys of the exceptionally atmospheric Oia during the afternoon and admire its breathtaking Caldera views and its famous sunset.
- Enjoy at least one mouth watering meal in one of its fantastic restaurants, offering stunning Caldera views. Finish your evening with a chilling cocktail in one of its many cozy bars and clubs in the most touristic and vibrant Fira (Capital)
- Cruise along the volcanic islets of the Caldera, swim in the hot yellow sea of the area and visit the Volcano

IOS

Ios is peculiar because it has a very vibrant Hora (capital village) with many clubs, cafes, restaurants and shops but the rest of the island is almost isolated, with the exemption of the great Mylopotas beach, which is very cosmopolitan. The main attraction of Ios is its many fantastic sandy beaches, most of which are accessed only by boat.

IOS is IDEAL for those who like to enjoy wild nightlife and at the same time a virgin island with some of the most beautiful virgin beaches of Greece.

MUST DO in IOS

- Explore its numerous wonderful isolated virgin beaches, accessed only by boat (Tris Klisies, Papa Nero, Pirki Nero, Tripiti etc).
- Anchor in Maganari (south), one of the most popular anchorages of Cyclades, with three wonderful sandy beaches. The area is underdeveloped, but part of the beaches is organized and there are also a couple of tavernas.
- Visit the lovely traditional Hora (capital village) on the hill, to enjoy clubbing, shopping or a nice meal. On your way, you will have the chance to admire the breathtaking views of Gyalos (port) and the Aegean.

FOLEGANDROS

The Hora (capital village) of Folegandros is considered as the most beautiful in Cyclades, after Santorini's and this the main reason for visiting this small primitive rocky island. However, it also has lovely little beaches with impressively transparent turquoise waters, including Katergo which is one of the best in Greece.

FOLEGANDROS is IDEAL for those who wish to swim in lovely small beaches with crystalline waters during the day and have a wonderful night time in one of the most picturesque panoramic villages of the Mediterranean

MUST DO in FOLEGANDROS

- Visit Hora during sunset to admire some of the most stunning Aegean views. This exceptionally beautiful traditional village on the hill has a "fairy tale" like atmosphere that will definitely captivate you. You should definitely have a dinner there in one of the many fantastic cozy restaurants and then a drink in one of its stylish bars.
- Swim in the magnificent Katergo beach, with exceptionally clear turquoise waters

SIFNOS

Sifnos has many funs because it offers a little bit of everything:

- Pure Cycladian architecture
- Adequate entertainment options, nice restaurants and shops
- Picturesque traditional villages
- Nice beaches

SIFNOS is IDEAL for those seeking a pure Cycladian island with adequate entertainment options and a cosmopolitan flair

MUST DO in SIFNOS

- Visit the wonderful Castle village (Kastro) during sunset to admire the breathtaking Aegean views and the lovely chapel of Epta Martyres built by the sea. You can have a drink in one of the Castle's cafes and if you have time have a dinner in the fantastic restaurant on the small beach of Seralia, underneath the village.
- Stroll in the narrow streets of Hora (capital village) during the night, with nice shops, restaurants and bars.

KYTHNOS

Kythnos is famous for Kolona, which is one of the most beautiful beaches in Greece, offering a fantastic protected anchorage. Besides Kolona, it has more than 50 other nice beaches, most of them quiet or isolated. It is a low profile non touristic island, with two very picturesque traditional villages (Hora, the Capital and Dryopida), few small coastal settlements and various cozy places for a meal or a drink. Kythnos also has a great ancient history. It developed a great civilization in antiquity and it is the place where the oldest human settlement of Cyclades was found (10.000 BC). It is also famous for its natural therapeutic thermal springs. KYTHNOS is IDEAL for those seeking a quiet island with beautiful beaches, small traditional villages, cozy places to enjoy a meal or a drink and great ancient history.

MUST DO in KYTHNOS

- Anchor in Kolona, one of the most spectacular anchorages in Greece, with a fantastic double sandy beach and crystalline waters
- Enjoy a nice meal or a drink on beach, in the lovely quiet fishing village of Loutra, with the little marina or in the nearby tiny bay of Agia Irini. Close to Loutra is Maroulas where the oldest human settlement of Cyclades was found (Maroulas area, 10.000 BC).
- Stroll along the narrow streets of the picturesque traditional villages Hora and Drypida. Hora (capital village) is more vibrant with cozy tavernas, cafes and bars, whereas the quiet Dryopida has a unique architecture (red roof tops) and a very few places to eat.
- Swim in the hot therapeutic spring water pouring into the seas of Loutra and Kolona bay.

KEA (TZIA)

Being the closest Cycladian island to Athens, Kea is very popular among Athenians and yachters. As most islands of Cyclades, has:

- Many beautiful virgin sandy beaches, with crystalline waters and a few organized ones, with Koundouros being the most cosmopolitan among them and a popular anchorage.
 - A picturesque Hora (Capital village) on the hill, with unique traditional architecture with red roofed houses and some nice coastal settlements, among which Vourkari is the most famous, due to its lovely protected bay.
 - Various nice tavernas, a few quiet bars by the sea and unique ancient trekking paths
 - Very important ancient history, archaeological sites (such as this on Karthaia beach) and museums.
- KEA IS IDEAL for those seeking a non touristic Cycladian island, with some cosmopolitan flair during high seasons, nice places to eat, lovely beaches and protected bays.

MUST DO in KEA

- Enjoy your meal in one of the nice seaside restaurants of Vourkari and then a lovely stroll to the peninsula of Agia Irini, where there was a pre-historic settlement and now lie ruins of an ancient temple
- Visit the picturesque Ioulida (capital village) on the hill, with a few good traditional tavernas
- Select your favorite isolated bay and swim in its crystalline waters.
